

KLA criminals with heads of Serb victims in their hands

The Albanian in the middle is Sadik Chufraj, a member of the KLA from the Decani area. The young man to his left is his son Valon Chufraj, born in April 1981 in the village of Prilep, municipality of Decani. He has an UNMIK identity card and is now a member of the Kosovo Protection Corps with the rank of lieutenant. He works in the inspector's office in Pec. UNMIK has taken disciplinary measures against him on two occasions. After cross-checking, our reporters were led to the assumption that the visible human head on the right is the head of Bojan Cvetkovic, born in Nis in 1972.

KLA Cut Off People's Heads

Searching for sources and examples of this evil, the reporters of "Novosti" recently discovered a horrific photograph, the best illustration of the bloody feasts of the members of the KLA. On the large photograph, we see three members of the KLA in uniform. The oldest, the one in the middle with the toothy grin, is holding a cut off human head in his right hand and carrying the larger head of a younger man more visibly in his left arm.

TOP

Vecernje Novosti daily, Belgrade
November 2, 2003

Despite the passing years, crimes never expire. Nor are they forgotten.

Members of the notorious so-called Kosovo Liberation Army (KLA), who waged a campaign of terror in Kosovo and Metohija for many years, especially against the Serbian population (in 1999 the KLA had approximately 20,000 armed men) continue to roam the southern province today wearing different badges and under different names, doing everything possible to achieve their grand dream - an independent, Albanian Kosovo.

Searching for sources and examples of this evil, the reporters of "Novosti" recently discovered a horrific photograph, the best illustration of the bloody feasts of the members of the KLA.

On the large photograph, we see three members of the KLA in uniform. The oldest, the one in the middle with the toothy grin, is holding a cut off human head in his right hand and carrying the larger head of a younger man more visibly in his left arm.

Two cut off human heads in two hands seeped in blood!

Murderers' Bloody Feast

Is it possible to reconstruct this crime?

Larger size photo/pdf file (750 kb) of the Vecernje Novosti article is available on:

http://www.kosovo.com/kla_decapit.jpg
http://www.kosovo.com/kla_decapit.pdf

Exposing themselves to the possible risks that investigations of this sort entail, the journalists of "Novosti", after some days of searching and cross-referencing facts from multiple sources, arrived at information they could "revisit" this case with relative reliability and "revive" this photograph of a horrible scene.

THE PLAYERS: The Albanian in the middle of the victory celebration is Sadik Chufraj, a member of the KLA from the Decani area.

The young man to his left is his son Valon Chufraj, born in April 1981 in the village of Prilep, municipality of Decani. He has an UNMIK identity card and is now a member of the Kosovo Protection Corps with the rank of lieutenant. He works in the inspector's office in Pec. UNMIK has taken disciplinary measures against him on two occasions.

It is assumed that these murderers belonged to one of the units commanded by Ramush and Daut Haradinaj, which operated in the zone of Decani - Pec.

With great caution and piety, after cross-checking, our reporters were led to the assumption that the visible human head on the right is the head of Bojan Cvetkovic, born in Nis in 1972. A comparison with a photograph published in the book "Junaci otadžbine" /Heroes of the Fatherland/ also leads us to the same assumption.

Still in Uniform

THE LOCATION: Bojan Cvetkovic, a sales clerk from Nis, volunteered for duty /in the Yugoslav Army/ after the aggression of NATO forces against our country. At the beginning of April 1999 he was mobilized in the Pristina Corps in the 549th Motorized Unit.

His days as a soldier were few. On April 11 he was abducted by members of the vicious KLA on the Prizren - Pristina road near Suva Reka.

Four other soldiers were captured at the same time: Zarko Filipovic, Dragoljub Tanaskovic, Dragan Vucetic and Zivota Topalovic.

Traces of all five men disappeared on that day.

THE CRIME: The dreadful question presents itself whether all five Serbian soldiers were killed on the same day, and in the same fashion.

The second photograph reveals a horrific spectacle: Sadik Chufraj is placing one of the cut off heads in a large bag!

Is the bag full of the heads of young Serbian men?

This story and these photographs are just a small part of the crimes by ethnic Albanians committed by members of the so-called Liberation Army.

Today these same men wear the uniforms of the Protection Corps (approximately 5,000 members of the former KLA are in the Corps), establishing "multiethnic order" in devastated Kosovo.

Thus, they are protected by the international community. Thus, all their crimes have been forgiven. Thus, their wartime leaders and their commanders, now dressed in elegant uniforms, can travel to the capitals of the world and participate in roundtable discussions where they supposedly discuss peace.

Will anyone, the people in UNMIK, for example, recognize if not the severed head of young Bojan Cvetkovic, then the bloody hands of Sadik Chufraj and his son, and bring them in for an informational talk or for questioning? Will they hold them accountable or bring them into a courtroom to face justice? There is little chance of it - but we will see.

Apology

In publishing these difficult, tragic and authentically crude photographs, the editors of "Novosti" seek only to demonstrate the full brutality of the violence and crimes committed by ethnic Albanian terrorists in Kosovo and that both the criminals and the victims can be recognized in the photographs. Perhaps this will bring further new truths to light.

We wish to extend our apologies to the Cvetkovic family for publication of assumptions and these comparisons, as well as to our readers whose sensibilities cannot endure this degree of authenticity.